James A. Miller, Esq.

James Miller is an Associate in the Personal Injury and Long-Term Disability practice groups. A former Mechanical Engineer, James combines precision and analytical thinking with compassion and advocacy. He works closely with clients who have been injured, whether that be guiding them through the Personal Injury process or assisting them with short- or long-term disability benefit claims.

Between earning his B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Pittsburgh and Law School, James worked as a Mechanical Engineer. James completed his J.D. at the Thomas R. Kline School of Law of Duquesne University. He began as a law clerk with Quatrini Law Group the summer after his first year of law school. He is a member of the Allegheny County Bar Association, the Westmoreland County Bar Association, the Ned J. Nackles American Inn of Court, the Pennsylvania Association for Justice, and the Western Pennsylvania Trial Lawyers Association. He volunteers with the Allegheny County Bar Foundation Pardons Project to clear criminal records through gubernatorial pardons, eliminating one of the most common barriers to housing, employment, and educational opportunities. In 2025, he was honored with the ACBF's Law Student Pro Bono Award. He also volunteers as a law school-level mock trial judge, where he appreciates the view of trials from the jury box while seriously evaluating the performance and latest techniques competitors bring from around the country.

James is the attorney coach for Valley High School's Mock Trial team, which returned from hiatus in 2025 in impressive fashion, winning a competition match in their first year. Attorney Miller also serves on the court-appointed conflict counsel list in Westmoreland County. He has represented clients at trial and in hearings through this work. As of 2026, he is co-chair of the Allegheny County Bar Association Young Lawyers Division Education Committee. He is responsible for planning and running continuing education events for other lawyers in the Allegheny County Bar Association. He enjoys the ongoing opportunity to learn and improve his practice through this role. James is also a graduate of the inaugural Pennsylvania Association for Justice trial college – an intensive program attended by attorneys across the Commonwealth, judged by seasoned plaintiff and defense attorneys.

James and his wife welcomed their first child, a daughter, in 2026. They live in Lower Burrell with their tuxedo cat, Minnie. When he is not practicing law, he enjoys spending time with his family, hiking, cooking, woodworking, 3D printing, and reading.
